NAVAL CONFERENCE.

foundation to Lord Nelson, was regularly used by the Navy as a building and repairing yard until a few years ago, when being listed as redundant, it was closed for reasons of economy.—British Wireless Service.

What Reduction Means

London, Yesterday.
Mr. Hugh Gibson, broadcasting to America on the progress of the Naval Conference, said that a definite British, Japanese and American agreement had been reached during the past week, whereby nine battleships were to be scrapped without replacement from the fleet of the three powers, as under the terms of the arrangement the Japanese fleet was to consist of nine battleships. The reduction of the three combined battleship fleets, therefore, was equal in numbers to the third largest battleship fleet in the world. Moreover, under last week's arrangement not one battleship would be laid down for the next six years.

Basis of Limitation.

The Conference, moreover, had reached a basis limiting all kinds of vessels of the three largest fleets, and the cruiser, destroyer, and submarine tonnage under this limitation would be far below the lowest limit discussed at Geneva in 1927.

Referring to the outstanding British, French and Italian discussions, Mr. Gibson said that they still had reason to hope that the Five Power agreement would be signed.—Reuter.

More Hearst Attacks

New York, Yesterday.
That the British Dominions are responsible for "Asserting the American doctrine of no more foreign entanglements," in the course of the proceedings of the London Naval Conference, is the Hearst newspapers' latest dig at Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, all of which "splashed" the foregoing conclusion in the course of their leading articles.—Reuter's American Service.

Earlier Cables

London, Saturday.
The Daily Mail says that the Conservatives are so perturbed about the continued Anglo-French discussions on the formula to meet the French demands arising out of the Naval Conference, that they will put a series of searching questions to the Prime Minister on the subject on Monday, and if the answers are not reassuring, they will probably demand a debate. An adverse vote on the subject "should lead to the Government's resignation." The Daily Herald says that the prospect of success of the Anglo-French negotiations is very slight. M. Briand telephoned to M. Tardieu in Paris yesterday evening and both concluded that the position was "hopeless."—Reuter.

London, Saturday.
After conferring with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Henderson at St. James's Palace this morning, M. Briand declared that the British and French viewpoints were much closer now, and that great progress had been made during the morning.
This afternoon M. Briand leaves for Paris and is returning to London on Tuesday.—Reuter.

Tokyo, Saturday.
The Navy is reported to be planning a demand that a part of the savings to be effected by the naval agreement shall be appropriated for the expansion of the Naval Air Force.

This force at present consists of seventeen squadrons and it is proposed to increase it to 23, giving approximately 1,000 machines at a cost of 60,000,000 yen.

The plan is suggested in order to make good the loss to national defence resulting from the reduction in submarines.

While well-informed people consider that the report is based on "intelligent anticipation," the Premier, speaking to Pressmen, declared that the Government had not yet considered any such proposals, although he admitted that the Vice-Minister of the Navy had suggested that part of the funds saved should be devoted to the improvement of naval efficiency and weapons.

It is generally believed that the main saving, which is estimated to amount to over 100,000,000 yen a year, will be devoted to the lightening of taxation and the relief of the unemployed, though some will probably be appropriated for the improvement of naval air defence.—Reuter.

Rugby, Yesterday.

It is generally anticipated that next week will be the critical period of the London Naval Conference, in regard to the political negotiations which have engaged the attention of the Anglo-French delegations during the past few days.

The problem to which these delegations have been addressing themselves is that of finding a formula setting out an agreed interpretation of certain Articles of the League of Nations Covenant, which would so far increase the French sense of security as to justify a substantial reduction in her naval tonnage, but which would not extend Britain's commitments.

Following yesterday's meeting, at which the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and the Foreign Minister, Mr. Henderson and M. Briand attended, the conversations were continued today at St. James's Palace. Messrs. MacDonald and Henderson, and Sir Robert Vansittart and M. Briand and Sig. Massigli and other experts were present.

At the close of the meeting it was stated that the conversations are continuing. They will, however, be temporarily interrupted for a few days, as M. Briand is returning to Paris this evening, presumably to report the progress of the conversations and to consult his government on the subject. According to present plans, M. Briand will return to London on Tuesday to resume the conversations. The delegates have not yet abandoned hope of overcoming the stubborn difficulties with which the Conference is faced.—British Wireless Service.

OVERLOADING.

Chinese Master Pays Maximum Fine.

Another case of overloading was heard this morning at the Marine Court, when Leung Yau, the Chinese master of the s.s. Tak Hing was charged with taking so much cargo on his vessel as to submerge the load line.

After evidence had been heard, he was fined $500,—the maximum for an offence of this nature.

ELUSIVE GERM.

New Claim of Woman Scientist.

The current issue of the Lancet contains a paper by Miss Kathleen Chevasut, M.Sc., a scientist at Westminster Hospital, bringing forward evidence in favour of the view that the cause of disseminated sclerosis—a form of progressive paralysis, and one of the commonest chronic diseases of the nervous system—is a filtrable virus. She claims to have isolated it from the cerebro-spinal fluid of a large number of patients.

"This discovery, if it is substantiated, will," says the Lancet, "certainly rank among the foremost achievements of bacteriology." Miss Chevasut declined to make any statement regarding her discovery.

A doctor at the Westminster Hospital said that, in spite of every effort by the medical profession to locate the origin of this disease, the germ had previously remained obscure. He continued: "Our remarkable ultra-microscope has been the means of identifying this tiny micro-organism which will pass through the pores of unglazed porcelain."

"If the claims are justified, it is possible that we are on the threshold of the discovery of the causative agent of many other diseases."

INDIAN DOCTORS.

"Suspicious of British Ideals."

The General Medical Council, according to the British Medical Journal, has decided to refuse recognition to the medical degrees of the Indian universities (Bombay, Calcutta, Lucknow, Madras, and Punjab) as furnishing a sufficient guarantee for the efficient practice of medicine, surgery, and midwifery in Britain.

For some years the recognition given to these degrees has been conditional and renewed for short periods; the recognition now lapses entirely. It is stated: The roots of this controversy extend far beyond the immediate point at issue. Many factors enter into the situation, the most assertive at the moment being Indian nationalism, proud, sensitive, instinctively suspicious of British ideals of education and character. Indian customs, like that of purdah (the veil), which has limited the opportunities of ob- electric instruction (where the trouble began), have to be taken into account.

Then there is the necessity, which the Indian is under, of pursuing his studies in a foreign tongue. He suffers often from inability to follow entirely the conversational English of the clinic and the examination room. The further fact has to be reckoned with—the fact out of which, the present Prime Minister once said, the difficulties of government in India arise—that India is a continent of peoples whose civilisation is advancing at different rates of progress.

HONG KONG TIDE

The tide-table given below has been obtained by aid of the Tidepredicting Machine, which includes 40 components for the better prediction of tides, from the result of the analysis of the tidal observations, taken at the Kowloon tidal observatory under the direction of Dr.
Dobrick during the years 1887, 1888 and 1889.

The times and heights are given for Kowloon; but they may be used for the Victoria Naval Yard and Aberdeen, the differences being very small.

The times of high and low-water must not be considered to coincide with the times of slack-water and change of current, the two phenomena being quite distinct.

BIRTH

SWANN.—On April 5, 1930, at Astbury Rectory, Cheshire, to Nona, wife of Alfred Swann, Dean of Hong Kong, a daughter.

Hong Kong, Monday, April 7, 1930.

BUS SERVICES.

With motor bus services now an integral part of the transport system of the Colony the public generally would be gratified to learn from the Chairman's speech at the annual meeting of shareholders in the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels, Limited, that the optimism he expressed a year ago in regard to the necessity for the inauguration of a de luxe bus service through the central part of the city has been fully justified. As he pointed out on Saturday, evidence that such necessity existed, and that the expenditure involved in the fine fleet of buses owned by this Company was justified can be obtained at any time from casual observation of the buses in operation. Travel from the heart of the city to the outskirts, particularly to Happy Valley with its incessant sports functions of various kinds, is to-day a real pleasure, both as regards comfort on the journey and the saving of time. It is an interesting commentary on the popularity of motor buses that an increase in the number of buses running on the University route, coinciding with a reduction of ten cents in the fare, has been a success from its inception, resulting in almost double revenue being obtained. Likewise, will be the announcement that the Board of Directors has under consideration the question of an augmentation of the bus service to Repulse Bay beach at reduced rates during the coming Summer season. The new scheme includes the establishment of a bathing pavilion, dressing rooms, and refreshments. The rates, we are informed, will be within the scope of those of moderate means.

It has long been a vexed point that the bathing beaches have been too far from the centre of the city to enable persons of moderate means to take full advantage of them during the hot Summer months. This complaint became more acute when the beach at Stonecutters' was closed to the general public after the "Shaforce" added considerably to the population of the European community. As is known, efforts to raise the ban on civilians at Stonecutters' after the departure of the "Shaforce" have unfortunately proved futile owing to the adamant attitude of the military authorities. That being the case the general public have had to depend on motor cars and taxi-cabs to transport them to those bathing beaches accessible by road—and that is a cost within the reach of only a certain class who, in any event, usually own their own motor cars and their own bathing sheds. Thus will it be seen how doubly welcome is the Hotels' Chairman's announcement of a more economical scheme so far as Repulse Bay is concerned.

Apart from the Summer bathing season, however, there can be no doubt whatever that motor bus services have not only come to stay but to expand far beyond the conception of many people. Rapid and comfortable means of transport are essential, and every year will see a genuine demand for more—and still more—facilities in this direction. In comparison with Kowloon the island is living in the lap of luxury as regards the standard of motor buses, and if the Hotels Company would follow the example of the Tramways Company and secure a footing in Kowloon they would earn a considerable measure of gratitude from the travelling public. For comfort there is as much distinction between a motor bus in Kowloon and one in Hong Kong as there is between chalk and cheese. Moreover, in some of the Kowloon buses, cleanliness is an unknown quantity, whilst on certain routes in which a monopoly is held, time tables are honoured only in the breach. Now that the "Colon" has an asset of which it should be justly proud (vide the Hotels Chairman's speech) in the shape of the Peninsula Hotel, the suggestion appears timely for the Directors to give heed to the real demand for bus services in Kowloon of the same excellent standard as those on the Island.

News in Brief

At On Hing Terrace yesterday the chimney of No. 3 and 4 caught fire, but was easily extinguished.

From to-day Mr. R. Ohl is taking over the local agency of the Compagnie des Messageries Maritimes.

Over the week-end two cases of smallpox and one of diphtheria were notified to the Medical Officer of Health.

The Very Rev. Alfred Swann and Mrs. Swann are being congratulated by their friends on the birth of a daughter.

Charged with the theft of two candlestick holders, a Chinese pleaded guilty at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning was fined $25 or three weeks' hard labour.

A Chinese, who was produced in Mr. Whyte-Smith's Court this morning, on a charge of the theft of two bundles of iron, was given six weeks' hard labour.

For stealing some brass castings from the Kowloon Docks, a young Chinese apprentice at the Docks, was at the Kowloon Police Court this morning ordered to receive eight strokes of the cane.

On a report to the Police Mr. M. B. Kitchell, manager of the Cosmopolitan Stores, 13-15, Morrison Road, alleges that a shroff has absconded with $335, collected from various customers.

Unable to give a satisfactory explanation as to the possession of two iron hinges, a Chinese was at the Kowloon Police Court to-day sentenced to two months' hard labour. He had a previous conviction.

Mr. J. J. Hirst yesterday lost a jacket which he had left hanging on a tree in Nathan Road outside his residence in Wing Lok Building, while he was repairing a punctured motor-cycle. The coat contained $5, his motor license and some private papers.

The members of the European Y.M.C.A., Kowloon, have formed a Photography Club. Their first exhibition opened during the week-end. Mr. J. C. Grenham, Secretary of the "Chero" Y.M.C.A., is Hon. Secretary and Treasurer of the Club, assisted by Mr. L. Dangerfield and Mr. J. Jackson.

At the Victoria Diocesan and Missionary Association "At Home" to-morrow at the Cathedral Hall, the Speaker will be the Rev. John Foster of the Union Theological College, Canton. Mr. Foster, who is the author of "Chinese Realities," a valuable study of modern China, has recently made an interesting find, which is believed to be an old Chinese (Nestorian) translation of the Te Deum. The meeting begins at 5.15, and is open to members and friends.

KIDNAPPING RING.

Same Clothes for Boys in Two Cases.

MAGISTRATE ON MEMORY

A disclosure of some interest was made by Detective-Sergeant Fitches at the Kowloon Police Court on Saturday morning.

An unemployed Chinese man and a woman were jointly charged with kidnapping and harbouring a Chinese boy, six years of age, from his mother at 47, Parkes Street, on April 2.

Both defendants said that a man, whom they did not know and could not find, gave them the boy.

The woman said: "A man came to my place and asked me if I wanted to buy the child for $100, and I agreed to the sale. So I got hold of this man (first accused) to assist me to take the boy to Sheung Shui by car, and then from Sheung Shui to Canton by train."

A Surprise.

Sergeant Fitches produced from a basket in Court the clothing which the accused put on the boy after changing the suit that he was wearing when kidnapped. His Worship, in a surprised voice: "That clothing—the cap, shoes and all—is the same as was used in the last case."

The officer intimated that probably the same gang were at work again. He added that there was a house, in the peninsula, whose location was not yet known to the Police, where these kidnappers, after succeeding in stealing a child, changed the latter's clothing.

Luk Yee-mui, the mother of the boy, spoke to missing him on April 2 at 10 a.m.

Not a Peimanist

The Chinese driver of the car taken to Sheung Shui intimated that he could not remember exactly what day it was—whether it was the day before Saturday or three days ago.

His Worship expressed surprise as he thought that Chinese could remember days and dates far better than Europeans could.

The case was remanded to this morning when a third man stood in the dock, also charged with the kidnapping and harbouring of the boy. He pleaded not guilty.

A Mere Chance.

Detective-Sergeant Fitches said that it was just an accident that this man was caught. After the hearing on Saturday the accused, who had previously been arrested, was in the detective office, when the driver of the motor car recognised him.

This third man was remanded till Thursday.

Detective-Sergeant Fitches applied for accused to be kept in custody, so that the three accused would have no opportunity of speaking to each other.

The case against the first two accused was then proceeded with. The Magistrate convicted, and sentenced each to one year's jail with hard labour. The male prisoner is to receive 24 strokes of the birch in addition.

WIFE'S VIGIL.

Her Story of Shell-Shocked Man.

A wife's story of how she had not left her husband alone for 12 months, night or day, and how he had not slept properly for eight months was told at an inquest on Mr. Wilfred Mattick of Weston-super-Mare, an ex-soldier.

MEN, WOMEN, AND AFFAIRS

Flogging in the Army: The Late ex-Shah of Persia: Lord Chancellor Finds Silence Golden: Lord Parmoor's Fatherly Advice.

The "Cat" on View

THE "cat o' nine tails," whose name is usually associated with the grim business of flogging, is one of the curious things that have been exhibited to members of the House of Commons. During the debates on the abolition of flogging in the army in 1879, an Irish member named Callan demanded that a specimen of the "cat" should be exhibited in the library. "Yes," said Parnell, taking up the suggestion with his sharp eye for a good point, "I should like to see what sort of instrument it is to be used, for I understand there are several kinds." For whatever reason, the Government at this stage refused to have anything to do with the suggestion.

But Parnell was not easily shaken off. He returned to the subject with the suggestion that Ministers themselves probably knew very little about the cat. "I should like to know," he said on a later opportunity, "what the Government knows about these cats. I have a shrewd suspicion they know very little." Again the Government refused. On July 3 Callan made references to the cats which drew from Ministers denials of the accuracy of his description of them as "instruments of torture." "Produce the cats," repeated Parnell, "and we shall know who is right."

And so on July 5 the cats were produced and proved fatal to the Government's resistance. On July 7 Ministers announced that flogging would be discontinued in all cases except when death was the alternative, and in 1881 Gladstone's Government abolished it altogether in the army.

The Ex-Shah

The late ex-Shah of Persia came to London only once, and did not create the sensation a grim predecessor did in Victorian times—the famous Shah who gave rise to a music-hall song, asked the Queen, so it is said, why she did not have Lord Salisbury beheaded, and behaved generally in an extremely Oriental and despotically fashion.

The only sensation made by the plump, mild little man who has just died in a Paris nursing home was by reason of an enormous white-plumed head-dress, in front of which was a dazzling jewel, the size of an egg.

In French reviews he was always represented in this fashion, but in recent years, when he seems to have been almost entirely forgotten.

He wandered, immaculately dressed, from Cannes to Deauville, from Deauville to San Sebastian, enjoying himself in apparently a rather melancholy way, and growing fatter and more sallow.

Silent So Far

THERE is a good deal of comment in political circles on the fact that the Socialist Lord Chancellor, Lord Sankey, has not yet made a single speech on behalf of the Government in the House of Lords, although so many months have elapsed since his appointment. It is usual for a Lord Chancellor to act as one of the principal Government spokesmen in this House, and when doing so he moves a little to one side of the Woolack to signify that he is taking a partisan position for the time being.

The reason for this reticence is probably physical rather than any other indisposition for the task. Lord Sankey is very far from well, and is lately refusing all avoidable public engagements.

Lord Russell, the ablest Socialist debater, quick in the give and take of discussion, Lord Arnold handles financial subjects with the easy but not always friendly style of a lecturer, and Lord Thomson has made one or two really brilliant speeches.

But these three can hardly do all the work, and Lord Parnell, it must be admitted, seems entirely out of his element in this House.

TAIPAN AT 17.

$10 a Week Manager and Staff of 18.

A 17-years-old boy's attempt to run a business with a $10 a week manager and a staff of 18, which ended in a mysterious fire, was described at the Old Bailey.

Alec Cohen, the boy, described as a gowned manufacturer, of Goswell-road, E.C., pleaded not guilty to setting fire to his premises with intent to defraud an insurance company.

Mr. G. B. McClure, prosecuting, said that Cohen began business last March. The turnover was $1,000 a month, but there was a loss on trading, the bank balance having dwindled by December to $20 when when the fire took place.

A month before the fire the insurance, which had been $625, was increased to $1,225. Cohen was the last person seen on the premises, and after the fire had been put out three pieces of rubber tubing and seven accumulator cases containing spirit were found.

Replying to Mr. J. F. Enloe, K.C., defending, Detective-Inspector Coles said that Cohen left a Jewish orphanage at the age of 13 or 14 and worked until he began business. He was a youth of exceptional character.

The Duke of York, speaking at the Industrial Welfare Society's banquet, appealed to British industry to review its methods of work organisation.

Ten Years Ago

(From the "China Mail" April 7, 1920.)

To-day's dollar is worth 4/10½d.

The result of the visit of the Committee from the Chinese Engineer's Institute, which waited on the Secretary for Chinese Affairs yesterday afternoon, was a proposal by the Hon. Mr. E. R. Hallifax to submit an offer from the mechanics of 3 cents per hour increase on their present wages. Matters are now resting at that, awaiting reply to this proposal.

The proposal, however, does not represent the sentiments of the Institute, which claims that it stands out for a 40 per cent. raise and further for a percentage increase and not a flat one.

The amount first offered to the strikers was 2½ per cent. raise per hour.

ROUND THE CINEMAS

"Cock Eyed World"—a Great Success.

BOMBS FROM PLANES.

The all-talking Fox feature, "The Cock Eyed World," now showing at the Queen's Theatre is a film which is really worth seeing, for it is full of mirth.

All through the film, which opens in Russia, Plagg and Quirt are at loggerheads, although they were "pals" with different ideas. Both always went after the same "skirt," and both usually failed.

Fun comes into the film with its full-out swing when Lily Damita, as the captivating Marianna, appears on the scene, when the troops are stationed at Santiago.

Here a realistic war is shown, the dropping of bombs from the moving planes providing thrills and excitement. How Plagg and Quirt attempt to outdo each other, when making love to Marianna is best left for the individual to see.

There are about 1,500 American marines in "Cock Eyed World" and they sing a catchy song "So long, so long."

Victor McLaglan, during the course of his arguments with Quirt, says that the next war will be in the air, "for what are we training thousands of men for the air, and why are so many inventing poisonous gases?"

The talking, on the whole, is very clear throughout the film, which occupies two full hours in its screening, but talking is interspersed with dancing, music, and songs.

AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE.

The attraction at the Majestic Theatre, Kowloon, for the last time today is Patsy Ruth Miller in "What Every Girl Should Know." It is a picture full of merriment and "go."

Jan Keith plays opposite Miss Miller, and is supported by Carol Nye, Mickey McBain, and Lillian Langdon.

As an added attraction, the Hawaiian Serenaders give some sweet selections of Hawaiian music, interspersed with jazz song hits, as "Singing in the Rain" and "Bashful Baby," winding up with the popular "Aloha Hawaii, Aloha."

"JOURNEY'S END."

Salisbury's Company to Visit Hong Kong.

Mr. R. B. Salisbury's popular Company will open their short season at the Star Theatre Kowloon on Friday, April 11 with R. C. Sheriff's famous war play, "Journey's End." Booking is now open at Moutrie's and the Star Theatre, and intending patrons are advised to book early.

From reports from India, the Straits, and Ceylon, the presentation of this world-famed play by Mr. Salisbury's Company is one of the finest pieces of acting seen out East. It cannot be wondered at, when the cast (which was specially selected out of many hundreds of applicants) was trained for five weeks in the Prince of Wales's Theatre, London, by the original producer, Mr. Tom Warner, who spent many patient and weary hours to make this production as near as possible to Mr. Sheriff's interpretation of the play.

Two New Productions.

Owing to numerous requests John van Druten's much discussed public school play "Young Woodley" will be presented at the Star Theatre, Kowloon on Wednesday night April 16. So much contro-

WIT AND PATHOS.

Smacking his tongue Shim said that the ten people or so caught hold of him and began to handle him roughly. Being a gentleman he resented the attention given to him, and as a fruit stall was lying quite handy, he seized the knife and lashed out in self-defence. The complainant was silly enough to get in the way.

The explanation, simple as it seemed, did not ring true, and the Magistrate asked for the other side of the picture.

That side of the story did not paint Shim as the unoffending gentleman which he describe himself to be. There was a mendicant—one who had apparently broken loose from Bedlam—living next door to Shim. This man had one weakness. He made it his habit of turning his neighbours out of their beds, and without so much as "your permission," tugged himself in and quietly fell off to sleep.

Yesterday, he played the same prank on the complainant. The latter resented and in words and deeds told the other gentleman that he was master of his own home.

Shim, who was playing a game of cards with a few young dames, heard the commotion, and thinking that it was a splendid opportunity to show his manly strength, he came out and began beating the complainant.

To his dismay, the complainant proved more than a match for the bully, who on finding himself getting the worse of the argument, got hold of the knife, and chopped away.

"Oh, I see what sort of a man you are. Four weeks' jail and $10 compensation for the ear that you have slit," said Mr. Lindsell.

What's in Evidence. Eight Hakkas then faced the Magistrate. They were charged with playing Pal Kau, which, being a game of chance, came under the Police ban.

They vigorously denied that they were so engaged. The game they played was Tin Kau, but a Chinese detective who made the raid said otherwise.

This officer gave a detailed statement of what he saw and what he did. He was so exact as to give the various hands held by the participants. On his evidence the first man was fined $30 as he was believed to be the keeper of the gaming house. But when coming to dealing with the players, the Magistrate wanted more information, and it was then the detective broke down in his statement. His evidence was not only contradictory but most unconvincing.

The Magistrate withdrew the fine against the first man and discharged all of them. The money found in the raid was ordered to be returned.

very took place that it took five years before the Censor would pass it.

On Thursday, April 17; the Quaints will present Liddle Cliff and Stanley Lupino's great musical comedy success from the Winter Garden Theatre, London, "So This is Love." This play is full of humour and catchy music, whilst the dresses and scenery are the latest from London.

J.P. CHARGED.

next morning a stranger named Chan visited him saying that he had been sent by Lum, who was definitely going on the Macedonia, and wished to arrange to go on board together with accused. They would engage a motor boat together to take their things to the ship. Accused agreed.

A Letter From Lum

Early on the morning of March 1, Chan came again and gave accused a letter from Lum, saying at the same time that Lum could not go. The letter asked accused to look after Lum's luggage, which Chan said was downstairs. Accused sent Chan down to look after this luggage whilst he dressed. When accused got down, Chan had disappeared, and he found that Lum's luggage had been mixed up with his.

Then he went to the wharf, and the rest the Court had already heard. Accused protested against search because it was done in the street in front of a gaping crowd of coolies, and he thought this was below the dignity of a J.P. in Singapore and Shanghai the searching was done in a shed, and accused thought that there ought to be a shed in Hong Kong as well.

Rightly or wrongly, he protested and intended to continue to protest against search in the open. About the keys, Mr. Strellett said that a packet was given to him by the man Chan and this he had hurriedly placed in his waistcoat pocket and forgotten all about. That was why at the wharf he had said that he had no keys.

Eventually, when he was taken to the Imports and Exports Office and told to sit down, he was "made" to remember the presence of the packet of keys because they "dug him in the stomach." Then he took them out and handed them over.

The case was adjourned until after tiffin.

Concerning Cooking.

No. 1.

POPULARITY.

The choice of a cooking stove is one of the most important decisions which the housewife has to make, since inadequate or unsatisfactory cooking arrangements will spoil the best and most carefully chosen food.

A modern gas cooker when properly used is by far the most satisfactory and economical cooking appliance now at the housewife's disposal.

Out of roughly 10,000,000 individual homes in England (Many for removed from gas mains) nearly 7,000,000 use gas cookers. Most of the leading hotels and other large caterers and nearly all the hospitals also use gas for cooking.

May we fix you a modern Gas Cooker on hire-purchase terms? You may name your own instalments if desired. Cookers also fixed on hire at $1.00 a month and sold for cash.

RACING.

President Hall Rumps Home.

REPLY TO ROYAL FLUSH

Happy Day very appropriately wound up a good day's sport at the Third Extra Race Meeting on Saturday by winning the last event, and incidentally paying his backers over $20. The race was run in the gathering gloom, but the crowd had every reason to be satisfied with the fare provided, the times being very fast, and some really excellent jockeyship being seen.

President Hall, in the Aggregate Stakes, gave a most convincing demonstration of superiority, simply toying with the opposition, and winning by lengths. It had been anticipated that Royal Flush might give the Hall a stiff run for the money, but the real surprise of the race was the showing of Pickle, who was nursed along carefully by his rider, and beat Mr. Heard's pony out of second place. The time was 2 minutes 01.1/5 seconds, which was bettered, however in the eighth race, when Piccalilli led from the start to finish in 2.01. Incidentally, Mr. Harriman rode a remarkably fine race here, judging the capabilities of his mount to perfection.

A Thrilling Finish. Mr. da Roza, who had a most successful day, also gave a sample of his quality when he brought Blue Heaven home in the D'Aguiar Plate, by a neck. In the next race, the Boa Vista "B" Class Handicap, a thrilling finish was seen, with four ponies fighting it out to the very last stride. Mr. Frost excelled himself here, fairly thrusting Iron Blood home by a short head. The same rider made a remarkable effort on the outside, to catch Piccalilli in the following race, but to no purpose. Chesapeake Bay, his mount, showed up well, and will bear watching.

Two Big Dividends. Dividends were fairly good throughout, the biggest of the day being in the first race, won by Duce, which paid $107.80. Piccalilli paid $41.80 to his delighted backers and Movanager, second in the last race, returned over $50.

Nationalist II, which has done big things in Shanghai, proved a disappointment in the Aggregate Stakes, and was never in the picture. This is apparently not the animal's true form, and it is expected to do much better when started again.

LOCAL FOOTBALL.

Somersets Win the Senior Shield.

VICTORY AFTER EXTRA TIME.

In the Senior Shield Final on Saturday two goals were shared by the Somersets and the Navy after ninety minutes' play, the sharpshooters being Gray and Farley. Extra time of ten minutes each way was then played, during which Farley gave the Somersets the victory. These eleven gave a thrilling display worthy of the Colony's Blue Ribband, the soldiers being good winners of a dour struggle. Chinese "B" and Eastern could not settle the Junior Shield Final even after extra time. It is understood that the battle will be fought over again on April 12.

By their three goals to one victory over Kowloon the Athletic Division the Navy at the head of the Senior League Table on goal average, and must now defeat the Somersets to carry off the Senior Trophy.

The Second Division games produced three draws, the Club v. Kowloon and S. China "A" v. Ewo being goalless ones with St. Joseph's and the R.A. sharing two goals. The Somersets were too good for the University and have jumped two places in the table. The Navy pleased their supporters by recording their "century" in registering six against Chinese "B" without response. With three more successes, their goal average will stand them in good stead.

Junior League Won by H.K.C.C.

SENIORS DOWN AGAIN.

The Hong Kong C.C. 2nd XI convincingly accounted for the junior team of the Indian R.C. in Division II of the Cricket League on Saturday and have retained the championship. With only one setback in ten matches, this at the hands of the Kowloon C.C. 2nd, the H.K.C.C. have accumulated a total of 27 points, two points ahead of their nearest rivals, the Club de Recreo. In the only other League fixture, in Division I, which had no bearing on the championship, (Kowloon C.C. having already placed themselves at the top of affairs), the H.K.C.C. 1st XI, at one time regarded as serious contenders for first place, suffered their fourth defeat by losing to the Indian R.C. The latter, winning for the first time, have had a particularly poor season so far, but still stand a chance of finishing on equal terms, for third place, with Craighower. Incidentally, these two sides will meet each other in their remaining fixture.

TIENTSIN.REALISTIC AERIAL BOMBARDMENT.
BY JAPANESE TROOPS.

An interesting military display was held at Hai Kwan-su, Japanese Concession, Tientsin, on the morning of March 10 in commemoration of the successful termination of the Japanese military operations in the Russo-Japanese War.

There was a very large attendance of Japanese people who watched the proceedings with great interest. One of the most striking features of the display was the representation of an aerial bombardment which was most realistic. Large model aeroplanes were operated by electricity on high wires and these were counter-attacked with anti-aircraft guns, machine-guns and musketry fire. Presently the aeroplanes burst into flames and presented a remarkable spectacle burning in mid-air. An infantry attack with musketry fire and hand-grenades proved a thrilling sight and there were also mock operations with cavalry and armoured cars. The sham fight ended with a fierce bayonet fight, the participants wearing steel masks and armour.

Afterwards, a number of prominent Japanese residents were entertained to tiffin on the military tennis-courts. Lieut-General Ueda (General Officer Commanding the Imperial Japanese Forces) proposed the health of His Majesty the Emperor and Mr. T. Okamoto (Consul-General) proposed the toast of the Imperial Japanese Army. Both toasts were drunk with enthusiasm and a staff-officer responded on behalf of the Army.

At night a cinema show was given in the Town Hall and the Japanese Concession was decorated with flags and bunting to mark the anniversary.—Peking and Tientsin Times.

After The War.

A Nerve Victim's Sufferings and How They Were Cured By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Like many more of his comrades, Mr. Harry Knowles, an English veteran of the Great War, suffered greatly from nerve troubles after his return to civilian life. It was not until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the world-renowned tonic, built his nervous system up that he recovered.

Here are the facts of Mr. Knowles's case, as related to a newspaper reporter who called at his home, Horner House, Stockbridge, near Sheffield, not long ago.

"After leaving the Army I suffered acutely from neurasthenia," said Mr. Knowles. "I was constantly depressed, could not sleep at night, and at times my condition almost verged on hysteria. I had severe pains in my limbs, was troubled at times with loss of memory, and lost much weight. Although I tried all kinds of medicine no benefit resulted. Life was a misery to me."

"Then I happened to read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and remembered that my father had derived great benefit from them some years previously. I decided to try the pills myself and before many days I felt an improvement. I was under a doctor at the time, and informed him that I was taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He told me to keep on with them, and said that they were blood-makers and would do me good."

"I continued with the pills and soon my appetite returned. Then I began to sleep better at night, and rose in the morning feeling fresh and energetic. The depression left me and I put on the flesh I had lost. Now I am splendidly fit and shall always be pleased to tell others what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me."

Equally good for men and women, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a proved specific for all disorders arising from impoverished blood or from debilitated nerves. Chemists everywhere sell them $1.50 per bottle, $5 for 6 bottles. If you are in need of tonic help try them and they will surely do you good.

Police Reinforced.

Jalapur, Saturday. Four hundred armed police have arrived and 100 more have gone to Dandi in readiness for any eventualities to-morrow.

Gandhi has announced that if he is arrested Abbas Tyabji, the retired High Court Judge from Baroda, will take his place.

Relays of volunteers are ready to start selling contraband salt at Ahmedabad to-morrow.—Reuter.

Gandhi Takes a Bath.

Dandi, Yesterday.

After prayers, Gandhi with 84 volunteers, proceeded at exactly 6 a.m. for bath in the sea. A large crowd accompanied the party, Gandhi walking with slow pace and grave solemnity. Gandhi and his volunteers entered the sea-water amid loud cries of "Mahatma Gandhi Kijai," then Gandhi and his volunteers proceeded to break the salt laws, by picking up salt lying on the shore.—Reuter.

Jalapur, Yesterday.

Gandhi has broken the salt law.—Reuter.

Hail Lawbreaker!

Dandi, later.

No police were present when the followers of Gandhi broke out salt law. Gandhi, while the volunteers were picking up salt, leant on the shoulder of his daughter and Abbas Tyabji. He was also accompanied by Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, who hailed him as "lawbreaker."

Gandhi has made a statement to the Press advising workers everywhere to manufacture salt. The war against the salt tax should be continued during the national week up to April 13.

"Those engaged in this sacred work should devote themselves to vigorous propaganda for a boycott of foreign cloth and prohibition of liquor."

To Women and Children.

He added that he was preparing a message for the women of India, who, he was becoming more and more convinced, could make a larger contribution than the men towards the attainment of independence.

It is reported from Bombay that Gandhi has issued a message to children—"Let the kiddies spin while the elders court gaol."

A Bombay message also says that Congress Committee volunteers broke the salt law at Juhu Beach, ten miles from Bombay, this morning, boiling the sea water. There were no police present, and no incident occurred.—Reuter.

A Gandhi-ite Arrested.

Bombay, Yesterday.

Manilal Kothari, one of the chief lieutenants of Gandhi, has been arrested at Virangam.

Further Details.

Kothari arrived at Virangam, forty miles from Ahmedabad, with a party of fifty-five volunteers, each carrying five pounds of salt. The Superintendent of Police of Ahmedabad arrested the party and seized the salt.

Kothari is president of the Gujarat Provincial Congress Committee, and led an abortive passive resistance movement in the state of Malva, Kathiawar last January.

It is reported from Jalapur that the police have confiscated a ton of salt collected by 150 volunteers in the Bardoli and Jalapur districts, three miles from Dandi. The volunteers, however, have again started to collect salt.

Son in Custody.

It is reported that Ram Das Gandhi, the son of the Mahatma, and a few other volunteers, have been arrested in Bhimrad village, in Chorasi district.—Reuter.

[Gandhi commenced his march to the sea on March 18. After morning prayers he affectionately bade farewell to his seminary. The party marched three abreast, each carrying a kitbag containing only absolute necessities and a staff. The party was preceded by an advance guard of sixteen students of Gandhi's "National University" of Gujarat, all with saffron masks (Hindu auspicious signs) on their foreheads. Hundreds of people marched in the wake of the procession. The police confined themselves to controlling the traffic, and there was no disorder.]

INDIAN AIR MAIL
CRITICISED."UNDUE BURDEN" OF SURCHARGE

A BENGAL COMPLAINT

The Secretary, Committee of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, has addressed the following letter to the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs:

I am directed by the Committee to address you on a matter of considerable importance in connection with the air mail. There has been a good deal of public comment recently on the fact that the use of this mail route has not increased as much as might have been expected when its conditions became more fully known, and it seems to the Committee that the factor that has tended to discourage a better rate of progress is possibly the high surcharge imposed by the Indian Post Office on air mail matter.

Undue Burden

The undue burden represented by this surcharge is more noticeable when compared with the corresponding position in connection with letters coming from Great Britain to India. The surcharge for a letter from India is six annas per half ounce as compared with five pence on letters from Britain. But the discrepancy is most pronounced when the matter is considered from the point of view of the relative profit that is earned.

The Committee have been informed that Imperial Airways received 13s. 9d. per pound of mail carried in either direction taking 35 letters to the lb. as a fair average. The British Post Office recovers 14s. 7d. per pound of air mail matter, the surplus retained by it being therefore 10d. per pound.

The Indian Post Office, on the other hand, recovers an equivalent of 19s. 6d. so that its surplus represents 5s. 9d. per pound or seven times as much as is retained by the British Post Office. The position thus set out indicates that the homeward service is considerably handicapped both absolutely by the high cost of carriage and relatively to the outward service by the disparity between the charges levied by the respective post offices.

Investigation.

The Committee recommend that the matter be investigated by the Indian Postal Department, because it is one of importance not only to the commercial community, but also to the public generally, and the definite handicap on the increasing use of the homeward air mail, such as is here indicated, be removed. The comparative figures quoted above show that the surcharge on homeward mail matter could be reduced by 25 per cent. and that on this reduced basis it would still yield to the Indian Post Office the same return as the British Post Office derives.—Allahabad Pioneer.

MUTINY OF FRENCH INFANTRY.

OFFICERS SCORPED IN BARRACK ROOM DITTIES.
BARRACADED IN TAVERN.

Paris, Yesterday.
An official report is now published of the mutiny at the disciplinary infantry base on the island of Oleron off Rochefort on March 20, news of which was hushed up at the time. The report says that the mutineers assembled in a tavern, barricaded the doors, smashed the furniture, and sang barrack room ditties in which the officers were insulted. The officers, in order to avoid bloodshed, had the place surrounded and invited the recalcitrants to surrender. Most of them did so, but the ring leaders held out for three days. Some ring leaders were ex-Naval men who were already involved in the mutiny at Calvi. The report denies the rumour that the revolt was due to lack of food or overwork.—Reuter.

TROOPS' CHANGES.

Somersets for India
Next Season.

WELSH COMING HERE.

The programme for the 1930-31 troping season has been announced at Home according to an Army Order. The change in Hong Kong will be that the 1st Bn. the Somerset Light Infantry, now stationed here, will be transferred to India, their place in Hong Kong to be taken by the 1st Bn. the South Wales Borderers, who are now in Egypt. In North China changes will take place as follows:—
2nd Bn. the Green Howards, from Shanghai to India, to be relieved in Shanghai by the 2nd Bn. the Royal Scots Fusiliers, from India.
2nd Bn. the Royal Scots, from Tientsin to India, to be relieved in Tientsin by the 1st Bn. the Queen's Loyal Regiment, from Malta.
These announcements are, of course, as usual, subject to modifications.
The Welsh Regiment.
The South Wales Borderers are not strangers to China as one battalion of the regiment took part in the siege of Tsingtao at the opening of the War.

KONGMOON NEWS.

Chinese Gunboats Sinks
in a Typhoon.

STEAMER CAPSIZES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Kongmoon, Friday.

There are some changes of officials in this part of the province. Li Hoi-wai succeeded Chung Chek-hi as Sunning magistrate and Leung Cho-ko succeeded Im Pok-kow as Kongmoon Mayor recently. Wong Ku-sok succeeded Li Lok-chiu as Chung Shan magistrate about two weeks ago. Wong Wai-yuk, Sanwul magistrate tendered his resignation, which was granted, and his successor Fuk Kin is coming from Ching Yuen to take over the seal. Even the Commissioner of Chinese Maritime Customs has received advice to be transferred and his successor, Mr. Campbell, an Englishman, is expected to arrive here shortly.

Gunboat Sinks.
The double funnelled Chinese gunboat Kong Hoi, sank in the West River near Do Shing in a typhoon and over 20 sailors were drowned. The Sun Toi Siran, running between Sunning and Suncheong, also suffered from the same fate on March 30. Her passengers, numbering over 60, ran to one side in order to shelter from the rain, and this caused the boat to capsize, and only 20 or 30 escaped from drowning.

News has reached here that Pak-Hoi has been recaptured by the Canton troops. The situation here and in the neighbourhood is generally quiet; pirates are not active except that some have returned to the old den Ku Tau Shaan (mountain) and, although the magistrates of the Hoiping and Yanping districts are planning to hunt the outlaws, no measures have actually been in force.

The opinion was expressed in London that Australia's financial position had been worsened by the increased tariffs on British goods introduced by Mr. Scullin.

Mr. J. R. Clynes, speaking in Lancashire alluded to the present outlook of the cotton trade, and said that it had relied upon a "false security."

RAILWAY STRIKE IN INDIA.

STRIKERS THROW STONES AT PASSING TRAINS.

NINETEEN ARRESTS.

Bombay, Yesterday.
Groups of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway strikers, carrying red flags, walked on the line with a view to holding up trains and also stoned passing trains. Up to the present nineteen strikers have been arrested, six of whom have been sentenced to three weeks' rigorous imprisonment each. Three policemen were injured this morning in a fight with strikers at Thana.—Reuter.

Earlier Cables.
Calcutta, Saturday.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon presided over by Sen Gupta, a resolution was passed condemning the action of the police in firing on the carter rioters on Tuesday, and urging the labour organisations to prepare a general strike.

Abdul Hakim, the general secretary of the Workers' and Peasants' Party, and Abdul Momin, secretary of the Carters' Union, have been arrested.

"Brickbats for Batons."
Bombay, Saturday.

The action of the Police in firing on the railway strikers yesterday is said to have hastened the satyagraha (civil disobedience) on the railways.

At a mass meeting of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway strikers this morning it was decided to "paralyse the train services" by batches of strikers prostrating themselves on the lines.

The strikers' slogan now is "brickbats for batons." They have been instructed that if they are molested by the Police to retaliate with "Indian bullets" (stones) and if some are arrested, others should follow.

Bombay, Yesterday.
Seven strikers of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway were seriously wounded as a result of the police firing on them this morning at Kuria station, eight miles from the city.
Ruikar, president of the G.I.P. railwaymen's union, and Khandalkar, president of the Red Flag union and leader of the strikers at Kuria station, were arrested after making a speech in defiance of police orders.

CHATER WILL CASE.

To Come Before the Privy Council.

An application for additional leave to appeal (to the Privy Council), in the case in which the estate of the late Sir Paul Chater is in dispute, was made before the Full Court this morning by Mr. F. C. Jenkins, on behalf of Mr. J. T. Bagram (defendant-respondent).

The Chief Justice, Sir Henry Gollan, in granting leave to appeal, directed that a cash or bank guarantee of $5,000 should be put up within two months. Despatch of the record was ordered to be made within six months.

With this decision, Mr. Justice J. R. Wood concurred.

Mr. H. G. Sheldon appeared for the Official Trustees of Bengal (defendant-appellant), and Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., for the Hon. W. E. L. Shenton (plaintiff-respondent).

It was intimated by Mr. Jenkins that Mr. E. Sadick, the second defendant-respondent in the original action, was not concerned in the application.

MONEY LEFT.

Estate of Late Mr. M.
de G. Wolff.

Letters of administration of the estate of Mr. Marcus de Gamasches Wolff, formerly of Shanghai, and St. Helena, Sterling Road, Hounslow, and late of Vancouver, B.C., have been granted to Mr. P. J. O'Connor of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, Hong Kong.

Mr. Wolff died in Vancouver on May 14, 1928, leaving estate in the value of $71,200. In a will made in 1918 he appointed his wife, Jeanne Marie de Gamasches Wolff, executrix.
